overstockArt.com Achieves Record Sales on Cyber Monday

Single Day Sales Record Broken on Cyber Monday 2012 With 48 Percent Increase in Sales From 2011

Wichita, Kan., Dec. 11, 2012 – The popular online gallery, overstockArt.com, is pleased to announce its record Thanksgiving weekend and Cyber Monday sales.

Highlights from the five-day Thanksgiving shopping period, Nov. 22 to Nov. 26, 2012, in comparison to the same extended shopping period in 2011, include:

- 20 percent growth in sales revenue for the time period.
- Cyber Monday sales increased 48 percent and order placement increased 29 percent making it the ecommerce site's largest retail day in history.

Cyber Monday 2012 was the largest online sales day of all time topping off at $1.98 billion, a 17 percent growth versus last year, according to the Adobe Digital Index. overstockArt.com's sales increase was 31 percent higher than this, "The holiday season is traditionally our busiest sales time of the year, but the numbers we saw over the holiday weekend and on Cyber Monday were overwhelming," stated David Sasson, founder and CEO of overstockArt.com.

In its Thanksgiving weekend shopping sales research, overstockArt.com also found that:

- Email marketing created a 42 percent increase in traffic to the site, 28 percent increase in revenue and 30 percent increase in transactions.
- Google organic traffic was down 40 percent due to the changes in the Google Algorithm, which according to Sasson is hitting online retailers hard.

"We are pleased to realize the success of our holiday weekend promotions and email marketing campaign," Sasson stated. "We provided our Gallery Insider Club members with unique opportunities to save substantially on Black Friday, Small Business Saturday and Cyber Monday and the numbers show that Gallery Insiders took notice of the email marketing campaign promoting these special offers."

overstockArt.com is offering several promotions during the remainder of the holiday season, including:
