For Immediate Release:

overstockArt.com Releases Updated Interactive Winter Catalog

In their latest catalog, overstockArt.com provides yet another creative and easy way to shop for fine art and décor.

overstockArt.com, the popular online retailer of hand-crafted art and archival quality frames, announced today a new Winter Catalog for 2016. The catalog, available online, illustrates an impressive line of hand-painted fine art reproductions. It's the latest addition to the retailer's ever-growing repertoire that augments and streamlines the shopping experience for home and professional decorators.

overstockArt.com's 2016 Winter Catalog is built upon a flexible, responsive, and easy-to-use platform that optimizes the browsing experience. The highly-interactive flip-book allows users to zoom in on the artworks and frames, mark and share favorites, and incorporates a live feed of individual prices, descriptions, and analyses. The rich catalog features beautiful full color and links to all of the products featured, whether on your computer or on your mobile device.

Featuring hundreds of the hottest hand-painted artworks selected from overstockArt.com's 10,000-plus inventory, it's divided into various Art Collections, including selections from budding contemporary artists in the 'Artist Become' collection, as well as an assortment of museum quality frames to best compliment your chosen works of art.

Making a triumphant return to the catalog this season are the company's Luxury Line paintings. This exclusive line of custom artwork features gold, silver and bronze metallic paints, resulting in an incredibly unique style not offered anywhere else. Whether you're interested in making your Monet shine or elevating a Klimt to its authentically palatial status, the Luxury Line adds an elegant accent to their lovingly crafted masterworks.

“Our mission at overstockArt.com is to make shopping for art into a rich and fun experience, we achieve this by removing all the doubts from the buying process and enriching shoppers with a great shopping experience and ultimately a magnificent piece of art for their space,” said David Sasson, CEO of overstockArt.com. “The new catalog is organized via subjects and collections. It holds many of our newest arrivals along with exclusive collections and even our ‘Turn Photos into Hand Painted Art’ service.”

overstockArt.com had previously created one print catalog a year, though the online retailer now updates their catalog four times throughout the year. “Using a digital catalog gives us an opportunity to create more seasonal versions of our catalog without the expense and waste of creating print catalogs,” stated Sasson. “It also allows our catalogs to be more current and up-to-date with our selection, which allows our customers to see the new products as soon as we start carrying them.”

Additionally, overstockArt.com has invested heavily in mobile apps to aid customers in decorating on-the-go and visualizing the art on their wall prior to purchase. overstockArt.com's apps allow people to easily browse hundreds of oil paintings in the palm of their hand and view the art on their own wall. The app is available, free to download for Android, iPad and iPhone.
